

Vacancy Advertisement

Heating & Plumbing Engineer

A qualified and highly skilled customer focused Gas/Heating and Plumbing Engineer is required to join a rapidly expanding business. Competitive starting salary, career progression, benefits package and company van are also included.

What we need from you:

- 3 years minimum experience working on Gas Appliances and Carrying out all types of Plumbing Work.
- NVQ Diploma (Level 2) in Plumbing and Domestic heating
- Able to work on your own initiative and have good problem-solving skills especially boiler breakdowns.
- You will have a good work ethic, morals and provide a high standard of customer service.
- Be available for out of hours emergency call outs, if required.
- Hold a UK Driving Licence.

Gas Qualification / ACS accreditations in all the following relevant areas:

- Core Domestic Gas Safety (CCN1)
- Combustion Performance Analysis (CPA1)
- Domestic Gas Central Heating, Boilers and Water Heater (CENWAT)
- Domestic Gas Cookers (CKR1)
- Domestic Gas fires and Wall Heaters (HTR1)

Desirable:

- Gas Safety registered.
- BPEC (WWUHI) Warm Water Underfloor Heating Installer.
- BPEC (UHW10) Vented and Unvented Hot Water Storage Systems (The requirement G3).

What the role involves:

You will be required to work across different residential and commercial properties.

Duties include but not limited to:

- Install, repair, service, maintain, test, and monitor plumbing, heating and gas systems, pipes and fixtures not limited to water distribution, waste systems, domestic central heating system, boilers, radiators, hot water cylinders and controls.

Salary/package: £30,000 to £35,000 per year and bonus scheme. Working Monday to Friday, 40 hours per week with the option of overtime.

Other benefits:

- A van will be supplied with fuel card for business use only.
- Uniform will be provided.
- Holidays – 28 days including Bank Holidays.
- NEST Pension scheme.

To apply please contact us for further details

www.callgas.co.uk
besafe@callgas.co.uk
0121 517 0419